The odorless (?) excavator was at work today near Hobron's corner on King and Fort streets, removing the fifth from the cesspools under adjacent buildings. It is possible that the excavator itself is odorless, but while at work a most horrible stench was raised, discernable for blocks up and down the adjacent streets.

The members of the Christian church desire to express their thanks to the Peerless Paint Company for the efficient manner in which the roof of the new church was painted. The Company did the painting gratuitously.

C. J. Falk of Mahukona returned home on the W. G. Hall.
